

We advise in the area of oil and gas transactions such as financing, contracts and their administration, supply and distribution of products, oil service agreements, and negotiating contract terms.